- It decreases production of free radicals

GRECOBE- THE GREEN COFFEE

GrecoBE green coffee bean extract has strong anti-oxidant properties. The green coffee bean extract has Chlorogenic acids, dietary polyphenols which act to help reduce free radicals in the body.

Chlorogenic acids are photochemical found in green coffee beans but when the coffee beans are roasted, the Chlorogenic acids (CGA) are destroyed. They have been long known for their beneficial properties.

This active ingredient makes green coffee bean an excellent agent to absorb free radicals.

It also helps to avert hydroxyl radicals, both of which contribute to degradation of cells in the body.

Chlorogenic acid's multiple metabolic effects ultimately help to:

- Support healthy weight management
- Maintain healthy blood glucose levels
- Promote balanced appetite

It has been touted as being able to reduce blood sugar levels and potentially exert an anti-diabetic effect as well as in weight loss and exerting an anti-obesity effect.
